Take Your Crisis Preparedness to the Next Level with

TIG Add-On Services

Are you looking to expand the impact of your TIG experience in your school community? TIG now offers additional training, coaching, and consulting services to complement and extend our core curriculum.

CISM Training

Build your internal crisis response team with Critical Incident Stress Management (CISM) training. Led by ICISF-certified instructors, these 2–3 day in-person courses provide hands-on practice in evidence-based interventions. Ideal for Crisis Team members and staff who may deliver crisis response support after critical events. Minimum group size: 8 participants.

Courses include: Managing School Crises: From Theory to Application, Group Crisis Intervention, Assisting Individuals in Crisis, and the combined 3-day Group and Individual Crisis Interventions course.

CISM Refresher

Sharpen your Crisis Response Team's intervention skills with these half-day skills-based reviews and practice. For staff that have completed either the Critical Incident Stress Management Group Intervention Skills course or the Managing School Crises course, this is an opportunity to freshen skills for supporting student and staff recovery after a critical event.

Let's build safer, more resilient schools –together.
For more information, contact Deb Salamone at dsalamone@ccsi.org.

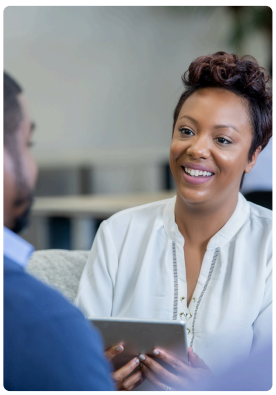
www.tigconsortium.org

TIG Refresher Courses

Stay sharp with half-day refresher sessions focused on core TIG concepts. Perfect for previously trained staff who want to build confidence or obtain updated information. Offered virtually or in-person, with individual registration options available.

Crisis Plan Development

Need to build consistency in crisis response across your district? We offer hands-on guidance in developing a crisis response plan using proven templates and best practices. Collaborate with our experts to tailor your plan to your district's culture, roles, and needs.



TIG Implementation Coaching and Consulting

Turn training into transformation. Our customized coaching and consulting services help you apply TIG principles in your school or district, whether you're launching a new initiative, overcoming resistance, or refining your crisis response practices. Flexible formats include one-on-one and team-based sessions, customized to your goals.

Let's build safer, more resilient schools –together.
For more information, contact Deb Salamone at dsalamone@ccsi.org.